Humpback Whales Bubble-Net Feeding

by Colchester

author: Derek Howes

Statement: "My aim was to view and photograph this phenomenon happening. One of the best places is in Alaska so I stayed on a boat out at sea for seven days following many pods of humpbacks. I think bubble-net feeding should be one of the 'natural wonders of the world'."

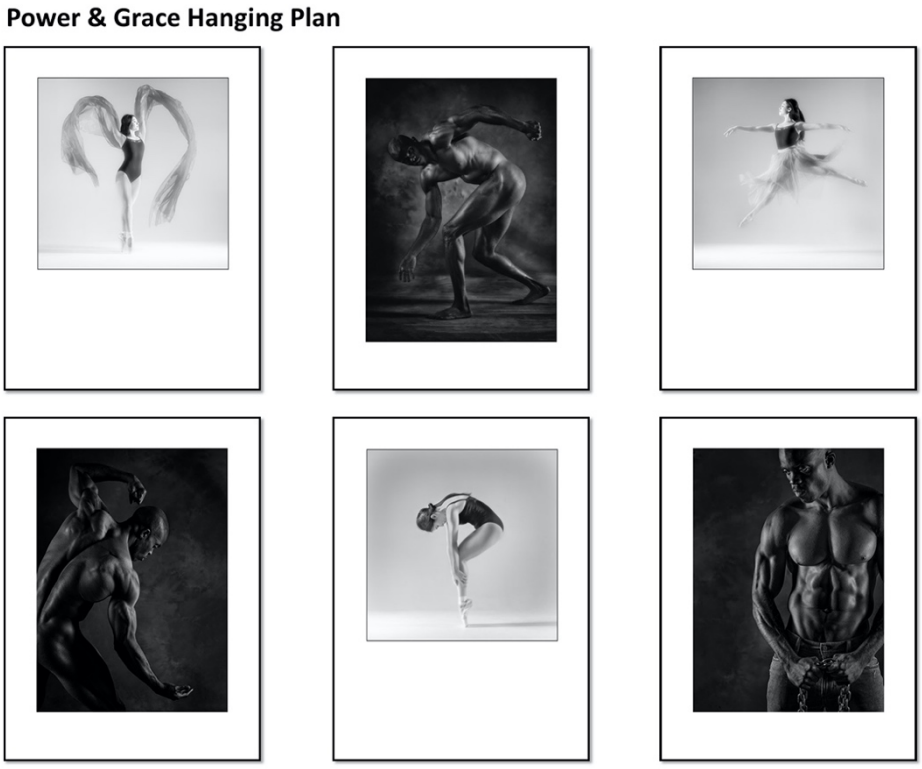

Second place -

Power and Grace

by Benfleet

author: Jane Barrett

Statement: "This panel explores the juxtaposition of the symmetry, size, and muscularity of bodybuilding, contrasting the poise, balance, and elegant movement of dance. These qualities are reflected through my panel by the use of contrasting composition combined with high and low-key lighting."

First place -

When Darkness Falls

by Ipswich

author: Martin Hancock

Statement: "Some fauna have evolved to be nocturnal or crepuscular, both to avoid predators and maximise feeding opportunities. This portfolio celebrates some of the UK fauna that have adapted these behavioural strategies. Flash has been used, but care was taken not to cause any disturbance or distress."
